

International PhD Symposium on the Methodology of Asian Studies

Organized by the Department of Asian Studies at the Faculty of Arts, Ljubljana University

Korte, 15-16 March 2019

Friday, March 15

Jana Rošker: Frameworks of reference in Asian studies

Marko Ogrizek: Japanese Confucianism and the question of decontextualisation

Živa Petrovčič: Social Crises and Daoist Religion in the Han era

Mitja Saje: Problems of Scientific Historiography

Helena Motoh: Elementary structural problems occurring in Asian Studies research

Mateja Petrovčič: Language and history – a precarious relation

Saturday, March 16

Nataša Visočnik Gerželj: Japanese PhD study program: problems and prospects

Nataša Vampelj Suhadolnik: The problems of researching East Asian collections in Slovenian Museums

Tina Berdajs: Ceramic artefacts in Slovene Museums and the problems of dating

Sabrina Adrizzoni: Traditional and contemporary gender ideologies in the Toulou villages in Yongding

Milan Dimić: Methodological Issues in Japanese Historiography

Tea Sernelj: Modern Confucianism in Taiwan and Japan